LIFE TERM IN PENJury Brings In Verdict Of Guilty
In Sensational Murder Case
At Lexington

Welch Wants New Trial

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., April 12—Jas. Welch, who was found guilty by a jury yesterday on a charge of the murder of J. S. Thomson, today announced at the jail he would ask for a new trial. He is quoted as saying "I am as confident as ever I will get out by and bye. My conscience is clear because I shot him in self defense."

Imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Frankfort for the remainder of his life was the punishment meted out to James Welch, farmer, of Donnell, for the murder of J. S. Thomson, traveling salesman, on December 24, 1919, by the jury in circuit court at Lexington which heard his case and reached a verdict early Sunday morning.

The first ballot taken by the jury it is understood, showed that eight of them were for the death penalty, while four for life imprisonment. On a ballot taken some time later, it is said, the vote stood six for death and six for life imprisonment. A compromise was finally reached and the entire body voted for life imprisonment, this verdict being handed to the court.

The members of the jury were: C. E. Eilkin, C. A. Berry, J. D. Reed, F. W. Collier, W. L. Huffman, L. S. Dunn, Lawrence Flynn, L. E. Sapp, W. W. Renaker, J. W. Leard, J. T. Gary and A. E. Hammett.

Welch was convicted for shooting Thomson to death on Main street the day before Christmas in the presence of thousands of people. Thomson was shot six times by Welch. He died almost before he fell to the street.

Commonwealth's Attorney John R. Allen, in presenting his case for the prosecution, proved that an illicit love affair had existed between Welch and Mrs. Thomson, the wife of the man who was killed.

Mrs. Thomson was viciously assaulted by Colonel Allen in his address to the jury Saturday for misconduct. Mrs. Thomson was seated in the machine just a few feet away from where her husband was killed by Welch when the fatal shooting occurred.

Mrs. Thomson is at present under indictment with Welch for murder, their cases being tried separately, this being requested by the defense.

The case of Mrs. Thomson has been postponed until the July term of circuit court upon motion of the defense, Colonel Allen, agreed to this.

In the closing arguments for the commonwealth delivered Saturday night, the photograph of Mrs. Thomson, found on Welch's person when he was arrested, was exhibited to the jury by Colonel Allen, as was also the love letter, said to have been from her to him, and a postcard with an endearing message on it. Colonel Allen recounted the visits of Welch to Mrs. Thomson's home, when he said Welch would remain until late at night "chaperoned" by her babies and the negro girl.

Every available foot of space in the courtroom was taken and the crowd overflowed into the lobby. It was estimated there were between 600 and 700 people present. Colonel Allen said he thought it was the largest crowd he had ever seen in the court room.

Attorney Wallace Muir, representing Mrs. Thomson, said he thought the throwing out of the evidence testimony in the Welch case would have a big effect on Mrs. Thomson's case. The indictment against Mrs. Thomson charged her with murder and conspiracy in the murder. Mr. Muir said it was his opinion she could now only be tried as a principal in the murder.

A ruling by Judge Kerr, declared that part of the testimony relating to a conspiracy between Mrs. Thomson and Welch to be incompetent.

W. C. G. Hobbs and Maury Kemper, in their summing-up arguments to the jury spoke of the lack of "positive" witnesses on the part of the Commonwealth to prove that Thomson did not have a knife in his hand.

They said the Commonwealth's witnesses all admitted their attention to the shooting and was first attracted by the actual acts and did not notice what took place between the two men previously.

The defense said the attorneys had two "positive" witnesses in the persons of Dewey Marrs and Lucy Hockaday, both of whom said they had seen a knife in Thomson's hands. They explained the girl's actions in first making the statement Thomson did not have a knife by saying she had been surrounded by police and detectives, who shouted "liar" every time she told the truth about the knife.

Mr. Kemper explained the love letter by saying the testimony showed Mrs. Thomson was attached to Welch and he said he did not doubt but that Welch was attached to her. Mr. Kemper asserted the woman whose affections were not responded to by her husband, was yearning for someone to treat her well.

All testimony offered by the Commonwealth and previously admitted by the court upon the theory of a criminal conspiracy between the defendant, Mrs. J. S. Thomson, to take the life of Thomson, and all testimony offered and admitted for the avowed purpose of establishing a criminal conspiracy between the two, was ordered excluded from the consideration of the jury by Judge Kerr in a statement to the jury before giving his instructions.

Dr. Gibson's Testimony Excluded

The jury was also instructed that all testimony given by the witnesses, Lucy Hockaday, Dr. W. M. Gibson or any other witness regarding a bottle of whiskey alleged to have been poisoned and containing poison and which was alleged to have been found by Thomson in his automobile or to have been given him by a stranger, was also expressly excluded from consideration by the jury.

In addition, Judge Kerr ordered that the jury not consider any statements made or alleged to have been made by Thomson or any statements said to have been made by Mrs. Thomson in regard to the poisoned whiskey, or anything connected with it.

Judge Kerr, further instructed the jury that all testimony given by any witness in regard to conversations between the witness, Will Smith, and Mrs. Thomson, regarding some work or some "dirty work" or any proposal to "put away" a man alleged to have been Thomson or anything of that nature, or any testimony in regard to these alleged circumstances by any witness was to be excluded from its consideration.

Welch Tells His Story

Jas. Welch was put on the stand in his own behalf by the defense late Saturday: Mrs. Thomson, he said, was just a friend of his and he stated he did not know why she wrote him the love letter or the endearing phrases in his handbook. He said he was 37 years old and lived in the Donnell neighborhood for about four years, that his wife died two years ago last January and that he met Mrs. Thomson at the home of her sister, Mrs. Baker.

Prior to meeting Mrs. Thomson at Mrs. Baker's home, the defendant said he had not known her. He said he first started going to see Mrs. Thomson alone in the summer after selling a pony for her. He said he did not know Thomson very well and only met him at the house on one occasion.

That occasion was when he went to the Thomson home to turn over the check for the pony. It was about 8 or 8:30 o'clock at night, he asserted Thomson came to the front door, shook it and then walked around towards the rear of the house, he said. Mrs. Thomson went out and told him to come in the front door as "there is nobody here by Mr. Welch."

When asked if he remembered whether Mrs. Thomson had told him about an interview with Smith, he was pressed further and said she did not mention it.

When asked if Mrs. Thomson ever mentioned to him the fact that her husband had been poisoned, he said he did not remember just when it was or the exact circumstances.

"Did you pay so little attention to what Mrs. Thomson told you that you don't remember?" was asked.

Welch then said he remembered having her say something about Thomson being poisoned when near Richmond, that she said he had picked up stranger on the road who gave him a drink.

The defendant stated he had gone driving with Mrs. Thomson once or twice—just pleasure drives out in the country.

After Welch's sister, Mrs. Goldie Stivers, had told of family visits exchanged with the Thomson, witnesses who had known Welch for four or five years then were called, and testified that his reputation was good.

J. W. Thacker, mayor of Georgetown, Harry Hargrave, manager of the National Bank at Georgetown, J. B. Shumley, sheriff of Scott county, James Craig, president of the Georgetown National Bank, H. D. Stokely, of Georgetown, Dewey Marrs, 21-year-old white, Scott county farmer, could not refrain from saying with the Commonwealth's attorney, and the court warned him that he would be sent to jail if he did not desist.

He was talking to Jess and Laura Marrs his cousins from Mercer county. He had not seen Thomson or Welch. He observed a man and woman talking at a machine close to him. She was in the car and he was on the street at the car's front door. A man passed in front of him, and his attention was attracted by the woman calling his name, "Thomson."

He said the man took a knife from his right hand pocket and held it in his right hand. Welch took either two or three steps backward. He didn't hear a word exchanged between the men. He couldn't see the knife after Thomson passed him. After the shots the woman got out of car and tried to go to her husband, but was held back by Laura Marrs, his cousin.

His cross examination was spirited from the first. He declined to estimate the distance of the car wheels from the curb. "If you haven't sense enough to know how near the wheel was close to the curb, you haven't any business being here," he told Colonel Allen.

Mrs. Sadie Hall, a neighbor of the Thomsons, was called. An objection to her answering a question as to any incident she may have observed at the Thomson home the evening before the tragedy was sustained, and she was excused. Attorney Kemper made an avowal as to what she would have related had she been allowed to testify.

Like testimony would have been given by Mrs. Sidney Hall, Mrs. H. D. Coleman, Edgar Estes, Frazier Richardson, and Ollie Reed, he said. The purpose of calling these witnesses, he said, was to show the treatment of Mrs. Thomson by her husband the evening before the tragedy. The state conceded that these witnesses had been called and would have been prevented from testifying had they been interrupted.

P. S. Dulin, Chilchburg; Jesse Couchman, Athens; C. D. Conley, Milton; Baker; G. T. Madden, Richard Madden, Luther Stivers, William Fister and Wm. Jarman all testified that Welch's reputation was good.

Others who testified were Wm. Jenkins, Guy Huguette, W. M. Barkley, and F. M. McKinney.

BEAT DESERTING CHARGE

Silas Garrett was in county court Saturday upon a warrant sworn out by his wife Rosa Garrett charging him with deserting his infant children Roscoe, John and James Garrett. He gave bond of $300 that he will contribute $35 a month for the support of the children and the warrant was dismissed.

The letter was read to Welch. In part it said, "I hope when this reaches you it finds you true to your promise and remember, I will be true and faithful to you, dear heart."

"What promise does she refer to?" Colonel Allen asked.

"I know not," said Welch.

"What do you understand by this lady writing to you in these terms and referring to a promise?"

"I don't know."

"Did you ever ask her to explain?"

"No."

Welch said the buggy from which he secured the picture, was brought out to his farm about a week before he sold the pony. He was cleaning it when he found the picture.

He was asked if he were not astonished and amazed at receiving a letter from a woman with whom he had only a friendly acquaintance, and in which he was addressed as "sweetheart."

"Well, some little bit," he said.

"Why did you never refer to it to her?"

"I thought no more about it."

He was asked if he understood what was meant by the expression, "Do you love me?" No—Yes—No. He said he did not. The fact this letter was mailed in February and the postcard in July and that they were found in his person on December 24th, was emphasized by Col. Allen.

"Why did you always carry a pistol when you went to call on a lady and the babies?" the defendant was asked.

"I always carried it at night."

He had previously said he had been carrying a revolver for two or three years.

"Why did you take it out of your overcoat pocket and put it in your other coat pocket when you went to the Thomson home?"

"There was danger the children might knock the overcoat down," he replied. He said he always said he overcoat on a chair or on the bed and never hung it on a hatrack.

Welch, in reply to questions, said he did not know that Thomson objected to his calling on Mrs. Thomson. Mrs. Thomson never told him of any objections, he asserted.

Welch said he did not remember whether Mrs. Thomson had told him about an interview with Smith, he was pressed further and said she did not mention it.

When asked if Mrs. Thomson ever mentioned to him the fact that her husband had been poisoned, he said he did not remember just when it was or the exact circumstances.

NEGRO CAUGHT WITH
MOONSHINE IN CAR

Constable Andy Poff, of the Big Hill section, did some clever detective work late last week when he saw a negro man driving a Ford car, talking to a man in that part of the county, who, Poff says, has the reputation of being a bootlegger. After they had come from the man's house, the constable took a position in the road and pulling his gun, forced the negro to stop his car. In it the officer found a gallon of moonshine whisky.

The negro proved to be Aaron Fender, who lives on a farm on the Barner Mill pike. The car belongs to John Walker, colored, which Fender says he borrowed. He was brought to town before U. S. Commissioner W. C. Bennett immediately and held over to await action of the Federal grand jury which convenes here April 26th. The Fender negro says that he was not going after whisky when he left town, merely taking a ride and that he got the whisky from three white men near Big Hill, whose names he does not know.

The car was seized by federal officers and the question of its disposition will come up when federal court has convened here.

Columbus, O.

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, April 12—Developments west of Pittsburgh in the switchmen's unauthorized strike are regarded by Railroad Brotherhood officials as pointing to gradual dissolution of the insurgent forces but in the east where the walk-out has been joined in several districts by trainmen, the situation has assumed a more serious aspect.

In the central and far west reports of disaffection from the strikers' ranks followed first an important break at Columbus, Ohio where 600 switchmen voted to return to work. In New York however, reports show the strikers are scoring heavily. The Central Railroad of New Jersey, for instance, has suspended all passenger service at noon.

This road covers the state and serves 55,000 commuters. Thousands of others on other lines failed to reach the city today.

RHODUS SELLS
LEASE ON GLYNDONP. M. Smyer and O. B. Arnold, of Kirkville, To Operate Well Known Hostelry

P. M. Smyer and O. B. Arnold, of Kirkville have bought the lease of C. C. Rhodus on Glyndon Hotel and have taken possession. Negotiations have been pending for several days but were concluded Saturday and the new lessees took immediate possession.

Mr. Smyer is one of the best known business men out in the county, having conducted a very successful store at Kirkville for a number of years. Mr. Arnold, who is associated with him in the hotel deal, is the popular assistant cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Kirkville. Both already have many warm friends in town here, who will cordially welcome them to Richmond.

It is understood that Mr. Eugene Spurluck, formerly principal of the Kirkville High School, will succeed Mr. Arnold in his banking position. Until Mr. Arnold is released there, Mr. Smyer will have charge of the hotel.

Mr. Rhodus took over the management of the hotel April 1, 1919. He has made a number of important improvements and has built up a splendid patronage and good will. He says that his plans for the future are as yet indefinite but he will rest a while for the benefit of his health and may then go into business in some city. A lot of friends he and his family have made here, will regret to see them leave Richmond.

Improved models followed in the course of time, including the first completely successful repeating shotgun. And with the coming of smokeless powder, the Winchester Company commenced the manufacture of ammunition, to insure Winchester users the best possible cartridges and shot shells for their rifles and shot guns. This proved to be an especially good move, for the continued superior shooting qualities of Winchester arms have for many years been partly attributed to ammunition being made for them in the same plant, by the same organization.

Now this great manufacturing establishment, tremendously expanded in the gigantic part it played in winning of the World War, is apparently branching out to make all possible use of the additional knowledge, experience, and equipment thus acquired. New articles being made already include tools, cutlery, fishing tackle, flashlights, skates, etc. With half a century of experience and unexcelled equipment entering into their production, it is to be expected that these new products, made in the same skilled and workmanlike manner as the famous Winchester guns have been made for so long, will have merit above the ordinary.

To the good fortune of the many old friends of Winchester in the community who will be the first to wish to examine these new articles, we have here in town a retail hardware concern of such high standing as to be one of the first exclusively selected to present the new Winchester products to the buying public. The agreement thus carries with it the privilege and responsibility of representing the manufacturer more directly, than any retail merchant has heretofore done in the case of the Winchester Company.

A special invitation is being extended by the Winchester Company to its friends in this district to visit "The Winchester Store" and see the latest additions to the Winchester "family." And as the Richmond Welch Company is likewise inviting everybody to do so, the store is enjoying a regular "old home week" of Winchester visitors. New friends will of course be equally welcome with old Winchester acquaintances.—Adv. 11

WARFIELD BENNETT
BUYS W. MAIN LOT

Warfield C. Bennett last week purchased from the First Presbyterian church, to whom it had been presented as a gift by Col. H. B. Hanger, the lot on the north side of West Main street known as the Crooke lot. The price he paid for it is understood to have been around $7,000. Mr. Bennett is said to be planning the erection of a handsome residence upon part of the lot, which is so large that it is susceptible of division into several attractive sites for building, perhaps two facing on West Main and two on North street to which it extends.

GIRL FROM GUTTER INSPIRED
SCULPTOR'S MASTERPIECE

If you believe that you had inspired your husband to do big things—to write a great book, or paint a great picture, or design a beautiful building, or build a big bridge—would you sit back and let another woman rob you of your happiness, or would you fight for it?

Denise Fleury, the heroine of "The Virtuous Model," the Albert Capellani-Pathe picture, of which Dolores Cassinelli is the star, coming to the local theatres on Tuesday night's picture believed that her soul, as well as her body, had been the inspiration for her sculptor husband's masterpiece, for which she had posed, and when another woman sought to claim her place, Denise fought!

Life had been drab and dreary for this beautiful young girl. Surrounded by the squalor of the Montmartre district, in Paris, she kept tight hold of her ideals and side-stepped temptation.

Then Paul Brehant, the noted sculptor, entered her life. An idealist, smarting from the disappointment of finding the woman he loved untrue to him, Denise's purity appealed to him, and they were married. But the other woman would not so easily relinquish her place to a girl from the gutter.

Did the virtue of the girl of lowly birth hold out against the insidious lies and insults of the woman of high birth? The answer lies in the happy ending of "The Virtuous Model." It is an adaptation of the famous French play "The Gutter," written by Pierre Wolff.

Mrs. Oldham State War Mother
Mrs. William Dowell, Oldham of Lexington, was elected State War Mother for Kentucky at a meeting of the executive board of the association held at the parsonage Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Oldham was elected corresponding secretary at the first State convention of the association held in Lexington in October 1919, and will appoint someone to fill the vacancy created by her acceptance of the executive position. She is the third president of the organization, the newest of women's patriotic societies.

Mrs. Reuben Hutchcraft, of Paris, was the first elected and served her term. Mrs. Harrison Gardner Foster of Lexington, who was elected president at the State convention in Oct. resigned several weeks ago.

At the board meeting Tuesday splendid reports were heard from the chapters in the various counties, the Frankfort County War Mothers giving an exceptionally fine record of progress. Many plans for the further growth of the association, especially by the organization of war mothers in the mountain counties, were made. A luncheon will be given soon, and the next convention will be held in Louisville in October.

Our Dwindling Beef-Cattle Herds

The United States is heading toward bankruptcy in its beef-cattle supply," declares A. L. Spellmeyer in The Country Gentleman of March 6th.

"In 1907 our beef cattle numbered 51,566,000 and in 1919 the total had fallen to 44,385,000. In that year 1907 the total there were 7,621,717 cattle and 1,763,574 calves slaughtered under government inspection. In 1919, with the available supply of cattle more than seven million fewer, we slaughtered 10,978,287 cattle and 3,323,077 calves.

"We are expecting today something like 44,000,000 cattle to supply round 15,000,000 annually for slaughter, maintain numbers against loss and increase production to keep pace with a rapidly growing population. Any veteran cattlemen will tell you that it can't be done."

Drought, uncertain prices and range hogging by the big outfits is driving the small cattlemen out of the business and yet the little cattlemen offers the biggest hope of replenishing the vanishing herds.

"Steps must be taken to safeguard the cattlemen against loss. There is no time to waste, for it will require years to build back our beef herds to a point where the supply can be depended upon to meet the demands. It is up to our legislators to turn us back from our march toward bankruptcy in beef cattle."

Report Of Farm Sale

Swinebroad, the real estate man of Lancaster, Kentucky, reports that on April 6th, he sold at public auction for W. D. Purdon, 183 3/4 acres at an average price of $200 per acre. The farm was in two tracts, 117 3/4 acres O. Durham at $225 per acre and 66 acres to Colon Campbell for $10,200. And on April 7th he sold at auction for J. W. Brown 207 acres in two tracts; 155 acres to C. W. Yankey at $135.50 per acre and 52 acres to Len Bradshaw at $130.52 per acre. Total sales for the two farms was $64,476.78.

These farms are located in Washington county, and as usual when Swinebroad conducts the sales, they are satisfactory to all concerned. A lot of personal property was also sold and brought good prices.

Swinebroad, together with his assistants, W. E. Moss and R. H. Dever who have charge of his Danville office are kept busy all the time and their services are much sought after by those who want to sell farms on account of their experience in the business, their system of advertising and method of conducting sales and from the further fact that Swinebroad "Always Sells."

The "Z" Lives a Long and Useful Life

"Z" Engine endurance is proverbial—it's a lifetime engine. That's because every part liable to wear is case hardened. Push rod rollers—valve stems and cams—contact parts throughout—are made immensely hard by heat treating. They will not wear—nor will they break.

The "Z" has an extra large crankshaft. Not one has ever broken. All "Z" bearings are die cast and removable. Every "Z" part so carefully made that it is absolutely interchangeable. Ample lubrication—positive—well-balanced, correct mechanical design—help make the "Z" the "lifetime" farm engine. On the job—dependable—powerful—always.

Other "Z" features are: Runs on kerosene, coal oil, tops, as well as gasoline; built-in Bosch high tension oscillating magneto; more than rated power; every part interchangeable; clean-cut, efficient design.

Would You Lose If Your Property Burned Today?

The destruction of that $5,000 home you built a few years ago would lose to you the original cost, plus another $5,000. For it costs $10,000 now to build the $5,000 home of 1914. Likewise the loss of today of the business property that cost $50,000 before Germany went mad, would be $100,000—probably $100,000 would not replace it.

SECOND STREET"IT HAS MADE A
NEW WOMAN OF ME"That Is What Mrs. Bartlett Says
After Taking Tanlac

"Tanlac is certainly a wonderful medicine to do what it has done for me," was the statement made the other day by Mrs. Frances Bartlett who lives at 1106 Norwood, Ave., Toledo, O.

"For the past five or six years I suffered so much from stomach trouble, nervousness and a general run down condition that I saw little pleasure in life," Mrs. Bartlett continued. "And then when I had the influenza over a year ago it left me so weak and miserable that I almost suffered a complete breakdown. I was unable to even sweep the floor, for I would give out completely and when my husband had to get some one to keep the house it hurt me so that I almost gave up heart. My digestion was so bad that I nearly lost my appetite, and what I did eat bloated me up with gas and caused me to suffer agonies from pains in my stomach. Dizzy, nauseating spells would come over me suddenly and I would have to lie down wherever I happened to be. I was so weak and short-winded that I could not walk a full block without having to stop and rest. I was so nervous that for the past two years I didn't know what it was to get a good night's sleep. In fact, I had fallen off in weight, and was in such a miserable condition that I just hate to think what a wreck I was and can hardly understand how I held out as long as I did.

"About a month ago my husband came home with a bottle of Tanlac and said he had been hearing so much about it that he wanted me to try it. I began to improve right away and now, although I have taken only three bottles, I feel that I have been made over into a new woman. I eat just anything I want and am never troubled afterwards in the least. Those dizzy, nauseating spells don't bother me any more and I am doing all my house-work by myself. The nervousness has all left me and I am now enjoying sound, restful sleep every night. Already I have gained eight pounds in weight and have more strength and energy than I have had in six years. I am just so happy over what Tanlac has done for me that I want to tell other suffering people about this medicine." Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton & Son.

If you run a farm you are or will be in need of a FORDSON FARM TRACTOR. We have repeatedly warned prospective customers of the demand for TRACTORS all over the world, and urged that they do not hesitate if they need one. Now the shortage is getting acute, and, like the Ford car, we are running behind the demand. The tractor has proven its sterling qualities the world over, as a FARMING necessity. For economy in first cost, and in maintenance, for speed in turning out work, for simplicity in construction, for ease of learning how to use them, they are in a class alone. Then we have all parts for repairs, and give immediate service. Any one who has had to wait for repairs on motor vehicles knows the value of immediate service. They will be worth three teams of mules in breaking and seeding, and eliminate two men, and under belt they cannot be excelled for any purpose from threshing to rock crushing.

Something More Than Profits

Most men are in business for the purpose of making money—you understand that. The profits are the objective.

All right. The next question is: How can we make our business pay the best profit? And in the answer to that question lies the big difference between business. We figure that a small margin on a large volume of sales is more profitable than a large profit on each sale. We figure that if we serve our community by having the right goods and selling them at a fair price; and giving each purchaser our assurance that he shall have satisfaction or money back, our profits take care of themselves.

Service is more than profits—
it's really the source of profit.

YOUNG GIRLS MADE STRONG

Mrs. Boyd Tells How Her Daughter Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Danville, Ill.—"My daughter was very delicate and we thought we could not raise her. She was troubled with irregularity and she was not able to go to school. For a year we gave her all kinds of tonics but to no good. One day one of your little books was thrown on our porch and I saw what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and what it might do for her. Now she is getting fat and goes to school every day. You can tell every mother what the Vegetable Compound has done for my daughter."—Mrs. J. H. Boyd, 1002 N. Jackson St., Danville, Ill.

If every girl who suffers as Miss Boyd did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, headache, dragging down pains, inflammation or ulceration would only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial they would soon find relief from such suffering.

For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years experience is at your service.

MUSIC LOVERS TO HEAR YSAÏE TUESDAY

Madison music lovers will have another opportunity Tuesday afternoon and evening, April 13th to hear the great Symphony Orchestra of Cincinnati, at Lexington. YsaÏe brings with him a more splendid combination of talent than ever before and he himself is widely known not only at one of the greatest of all violin virtuosi but also a conductor second to none with an experience of many fruitful years. The musical public should accept this as a great privilege and should realize its importance as a real vital force in the education of the young. Parents should see it that the children whether they are studying music or not take every occasion to hear good music. If they only know jazz music or the comic opera that will be the limit of their musical intelligence and appreciation. Richmond is one of the most musical towns in the state and boasts a multiplicity of clubs. The Lexington management counts on Richmond for the artists series. Let us not lose our reputation as patrons of art but send over a hundred strong to hear YsaÏe and his great organization. It is one of the aims of the National Federation as well as the musical clubs of the state to establish local orchestras in the larger towns. The mind of the musical public may prove a real influence in bringing about a condition to word such an accomplishment and Louisville and Lexington may in course of time compete with the larger cities in such an organization.

NO FACTION CAN "RIDE" ON COX'S CANDIDACY

(Louisville Times)

If any faction or group of Kentucky Democratic politicians had planned to make a fight for committee control under the aegis of the candidacy of Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio for the Democratic presidential nomination the idea has been abandoned. The Times is in possession of information on this point sufficiently direct to be stated without reservation.

When Kentucky politicians visited Governor Cox at Columbus recently and expressed their interest in his candidacy he expressly stated that he desired his personality and campaign in this state to be kept clear and apart from any contest that might ensue for control of the state committee. Later, in viewing of publications that the faction supporting Senator A. O. Stanley had such a plan in view, Governor Cox has reiterated his intention to keep his candidacy clear of any intraparty fight. His wish has been respected.

The Times is further informed that an effort will be made by friends of Governor Cox in all the party factions to obtain the election of district delegates favorable to his candidacy for President. The present plan of the Cox League is not to ask for instructions of the State-at-large delegates, but to have district delegates instructed, wherever possible, or failing that, to elect delegates known to favor Governor Cox.

While Senator Stanley is said to be personally for the Ohio candidate, The Times can state that the Cox movement is by no means confined to his political retinue in Kentucky many close friends of Senator Beckham and many Democrats who belong to neither faction are behind the Governor of Ohio in the belief that his presidential candidacy will carry this state and insure the re-election of the senior Senator.

In opposition to the Cox movement is the effort in behalf of former Secretary William G. McAdoo of the Treasury Department and it is more than likely that the Kentucky delegates chosen will divide their strength between Cox and McAdoo in the early balloting. The plan of the McAdoo Committee is not primarily to obtain open instructions of district and State-at-large delegates, but to elect known and privately pledged supporters of the President's son-in-law.

Why You Should Buy Guaranteed Roofing

When you buy roofing you want durability as well as shelter. You want to know that it will last long enough to make its average cost per year a reasonable figure.

That is why Certain-teed should appeal to you. For, when properly laid, Certain-teed Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight.

The guarantee adequately protects your investment, but it does not accurately measure Certain-teed's life. In fact no one knows just how durable Certain-teed is, because in no case has it ever been known to wear out on the roof.

And Certain-teed is more than durable. It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof. It effectively shelters your property.

With all these advantages, Certain-teed Roofing costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain, than any other type of good roofing.

See your dealer about Certain-teed. He either has it or can get it quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributing center.

EASTERN OPENS BASEBALL SEASON

The baseball season of the Model High School opened propitiously as well as auspiciously in Winchester yesterday afternoon when the local boys played the City High School team. Bedecked in brand-new uniforms of big league cut and style the flower of Model's baseball flocks marched forth to a 17 to 10 victory.

Promptly at 3:15 Tom Adams soaked the first ball pitched for two bases but was thrown out when he attempted to stretch the hit into a three bagger. The bases were filled through errors and a hit. The second inning proved to be a nightmare for the Winchester boys before the smoke of the battle had cleared away thirteen runs had crossed the plate and one of Winchester's star pitchers was driven to cover. The game was quite interesting from this point.

The local boys were handicapped by the absence of Bill Crutcher, first-string catcher. Bill was confined to his home with tonsillitis and could not make the trip. Farley was called from the infield and did nicely behind the bat, but showed lack of practice in that position. He is a good man to have around as he can play any position on the team.

Dunaway had the Winchester boys at his mercy throughout the entire game. His speed and curves were too much for the youngsters from our neighboring city.

Line-up for the locals Farley, C., Dunaway, P., Adams, I.B., Minter, B., Allen, B., Nolan, S.S., Arnold, L. F., Covington, O.P., Jones, R.P., Parks, Sub.

Notes On The Game

Farley worked like a beaver throughout the game. He showed the opponents that it was dangerous to test his strong right arm.

Dunaway struck out four men in one inning. Not impossible at all. One of the men reached first on error by the catcher. Seventeen men whiffed during the game. Some record.

Adams tore his new suit in making a desperate slide for third in the first inning.

Minter is nursing a score cheek. On an attempted double play the ball caromed off Bill's glove and struck him on the cheek. It was a "stunning" blow.

Bunk Allen had an easy time at Third. The only chance he had, he didn't handle.

"Cap" Nolan was the heavy hitter of the day. Nolan poled out a home run in the first inning, but was forced to hit again after the umpires decided it must have been a foul. When Nolan came up in the second inning with the bases full, he pulled his cap over his left eye, squared-off and looked the first one over. The second pitch suited him and he whaled it out of the park for a home run that the umpires could not question.

Arnold Covington and Jones played their positions well. Neither had a chance but they were there with the stick. These are the light-weights of the team, but dangerous men to pitch to in a pinch.

Bone-head plays and overthrows throughout. The other team made the bone-head plays, our boys did the overthrowing.

May 10th the two teams will play again. We shudder to think of the score-keepers job. Coleman Covington has agreed to bring his father's adding machine to the campus on that day.

CHANDLER SIX Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Two Great Chandlers Right Out In Front

HERE are two Chandler Six models which the big and constantly expanding Chandler factory production has never been able to build in volume that could supply the demand of discriminating motor car purchasers. They are the Chandler Six Touring Car and Dispatch Car, the former a big, handsome, roomy, comfortable, real seven-passenger car; and the latter a trim, smaller car, suggestive in its appearance of all the good things of outdoor life. The Dispatch Car has a touch of snappy style in its clean lines, and is strikingly finished in the beautiful Chandler Rainbow Blue. It seats four persons in restful comfort.

Both the Chandler Six Touring and Dispatch Cars are mounted on the same standard Chandler chassis, developed, through seven years of manufacture, to a surpassing point of excellence and famous for its really marvelous motor. The Chandler Car is priced much lower than other cars which may, perhaps, compare with it.

HOW PRESBYTERIANS

WILL SPEND MONEY
The ways in which the $222,699 fund being raised by Presbyterians in the synod of Kentucky will be spent have been announced by Rev. W. H. Hopper, synodical manager, Synodical and presbyterial causes will receive 40 per cent of the total or $90,800. The synods and presbyteries support quite a number of local institutions which are directly under their control, and this portion of the fund will go to their benefit.

The Assembly's home missions will receive $36,320. Foreign missions will receive $75,591. Christian education and ministerial relief has been allotted $17,025. For publication and Sunday school extension will be spent $4,540. Both the Assembly's Training school and the American Bible society will be beneficiaries to the extent of $1,362. The American Bible Society is an organization, non-sectarian in purpose and scope, which has for its aim the distribution of Bibles to people all over the world.

The Presbyterian Progressive Program in the synod of Kentucky is meeting with wonderful success, according to Dr. Hopper. The every-member canvass will be held April 25-May 2.

LAINE MAKES HIS REPORT TO COURT

Henry A. Laine, Madison county's efficient Colored Farm Agent and Demonstrator gave a detailed report of his work for the past three months to the fiscal court at its regular meeting Tuesday. Laine submitted his report in writing and it was heard with much interest and approval by the magistrates. His report of the work he has done during that period is as follows:

Richmond, Ky.
April 1, 1920.

Judge W. K. Price, and Gentlemen of the Fiscal Court of Madison County:

I hereby submit to you my third Quarterly Report as Agricultural Agent, working among colored citizens of the county. This document reports a continuation of the kind of work I have been doing, as reported in former quarterly reports, that is I have tried to get the colored farm people to see and appreciate the honor, dignity, and responsibility of being an American citizen dwelling in peace and safety beneath the protecting folds of the stars and stripes, and sharing with other folks in the wonderful, unprecedented prosperity which has come, unrivaled in history to Madison county. First I desire to say that the relationship between the races remains friendly and naturally helpful. No racial upheavals such as have marred the friendly relations of the races in other sections flashing ominous shadows over our sky of peace have occurred in good old Madison county and I believe that court records will bear me out in saying that there is great improvement going on among colored citizens and a growing respect for law and order.

We colored people hang our heads in shame on account of some of the crimes charged against our race, but we are proud to note a growing sentiment against mob-violence among white people and especially in the South. Knowing that the prosperous citizen is generally the law-abiding citizen and that colored men who own or rent land or who have bank accounts, are the ones who use their influence to check the headstrong tendencies of the more thoughtless among us and are the hope of my race. This calls needs to be encouraged. So as agents I have done what I could do to point out the way to success, by means of lectures, bulletins, letters, roadside talks, friendly chats. Since December 31st 1919 when my last quarterly report was made, I have addressed nine gatherings of various kinds with an attendance of 470 persons, have written 136 letters on various topics of current interest sent out 55 bulletins pertaining to farm, garden, orchard live stock, poultry, dairying, home making and related topics, held 127 personal interviews, received 22 calls at my office on professional matters besides the unaccounted calls and interviews. I might add that I attended the great meeting of County Agents of the state of Lexington State College, January 31st to February 4th, and was greatly benefited by the talks, lectures and lanternslide views given. I have not been able to do some things I should like to have done on account of the disagreeable winter and bad roads, but am thankful that I have been able to contribute something to the welfare of Madison county.

There was never so much zeal in planting nor interest in the management of the vine as now, and is the lurking suspicion unfair that many good people are preparing to brew the cup that cheers?

WHEN NATURE COLORS THE CHEEKS

She Applies It From Within, Not From Outside

Pepito-Mangan, Nature's Beautifier

It Is The Coloring Matter Of Pure Blood That Makes A Good Complexion

Beauty is more than skin deep. No one can have a clear, delicate skin, glowing with health, if the blood is impure or lacking in the vitality necessary iron that gives the coloring matter to the "life fluid." Neglect of regular and necessary waste elimination, helps to render the blood impure and reduce its iron contents. The best cosmetic in the world is pure, healthy, iron-rich blood.

Doctors, realizing the importance of enriching and improving the blood, have for years prescribed Gude's Pepito-Mangan the pleasant and proved blood builder and tonic.

Pepito-Mangan contains just the elements needed to change thin, watery blood to good, red blood. Pepito-Mangan builds rich, red blood, enabling it to carry strength and vigor to every part of the body.

Gude's Pepito-Mangan has become so well known, by reason of doctors recommending it, that you can get it in tablet or liquid form at any drug store. Instead of trying to cover up a poor complexion, get a bottle of Gude's Pepito-Mangan and note how soon you feel better, sleep better, work harder, play with more zest—and how your skin and complexion are improving.

Only make sure to get the genuine. It has "Gude's" on the package.—Adv.

Laboratory Tested Feed
Purina Cow Chow is laboratory tested and machine mixed. This means that your cows get a uniform quality ration, which prevents them from going "off feed" and insures maximum milk flow.
You know that if a cow is thrown off her feed by improper mixing, or feeding off-quality grain, it may take days to get her "back." This results in a heavy loss of milk.

Purina Cow Chow
is your best safeguard against such losses. Every ingredient that enters into Purina Cow Chow must come up to a rigid standard of quality. Not only is the quality of the grain guarded, but the ingredients are accurately measured and mixed by machinery. For that reason, Purina Cow Chow is bound to be absolutely uniform
Just the right elements are included to balance the roughage and silage that you produce. Your milk records will prove the feeding value of Purina Cow Chow. Let us put you herd on a test.

In loving memory of our dear nephew, Clifford Morgan McLemore, who departed from this world Jan. 6, 1919.

As we think of our darling nephew, When he was with us here, Our home was bright and happy, And always full of cheer. But now that you have left us, And gone to that other land In heaven we hope to greet you, Where no farewell tears are shed. Oh, those many weeks of sickness, Ere his suffering all were over, Soon his spirit winged its flight, For that bright and golden shore.

Little brown eyes closed in slumber, Never on earth to open more Fondly we will guard his treasures As we have in days of yore. He has left us brokenhearted; We can kiss his lips no more, For the angel came and bore him, To that bright and celestial shore. Gone and left our home so lonely, On that cold and gloomy day Precious blossom that we loved, Called to join that happy throng. And we know that he is waiting By the river over there. Until we meet again in heaven, Little brother, farewell, farewell.
